E3 Reading – Transport Research Results – Task 1

Name: _____ Read the text. Answer questions 1 – 7.

DAILY NEWS Transport Research Results

A questionnaire shows that the average daily journey to work in Britain is one hour and 38 minutes. For some people on the East Coast the journey can take longer, two hours and 25 minutes. Most people prefer to travel by train.

The most popular activities for travellers are:

- listening to music or a podcast
- watching a film
- making phone calls
- working on laptops

These activities are often annoying for other travellers. People report that the music is sometimes too loud and that travellers talk too loudly on their phones. Mobile phones ringing are a problem when others are trying to work or rest on long journeys.

The cost of travelling to work is different around the country but people in London spend about £176 a month. Travellers feel the train fares are too high and because of the high cost of living in London, they are encouraged to move further north to reduce costs. Houses are cheaper, travel is cheaper and so are the day to day living expenses in the north.

Birmingham has become popular for business. Some companies are moving there because they pay lower rent and get staff more easily.
